World Scientific Congress
Education and the World Scout Movement: Experiences and challenges

Dear Colleagues,

I am pleased to bring you this first publication following the World Scientific Congress, which we organised last year in Geneva.

This overview document takes a first look at the issues debated at the Congress and offers some lines of thinking that Movement should explore further. We are in the process of finalising a more exhaustive document by compiling all of the contributions made at the event. This will be the main report of the Congress and will be communicated to you very soon.

It is hoped that this publication is not only a tool for discussion and inspiration to improve the quality of Scouting offered by our Associations, but that it is also a communications tool to promote the reality of the Movement's actions.

Yours in Scouting,

Luc Panissod
Acting Secretary General
