The European Committee has just published its Annual Review for the year July 2008 till July 2009. This is the second such report which reflects the achievements made and the challenges faced.

Continuing the spirit of openness which was evident last year, the European Scout Committee has published its second Annual Review of the period July 2008 till July 2009.

With the economic crisis and the outcomes of the World Scout Conference, the report covers all areas of the work of the Committee as it, working with the staff team and a comprehensive body of volunteers, worked to achieve the European Scout Plan 2007-2010.

In a clear year of implementation, much has been achieved and things are on track for work to be achieved in time for the European Scout Conference.
