On behalf of the World Scout Committee, thank you to all the volunteers who give their time and talents to support this tremendous Movement.

Dear Fellow Scouts,

It gives me great pleasure to send you this message, on behalf of World Scouting, to thank you for the support you give to Scouting.

This is a tremendously exciting time for our Movement, as we enter our second century, and you should be very proud of your contribution at local, national or international level.

I am sure that you will be very involved in many activities over the next 12 months, but we should not forget that for Scouting to grow even stronger, we need to involve more adults.

We need to share our volunteer experience with others.

During 2007 Scouts world-wide will be taking part in special programmes to mark our Centenary. We plan to invite all former Scouts and friends of Scouting to be part of these special celebrations too, especially on 1 August for Scouting's Sunrise. It is by sharing our volunteering experience that new volunteers will be recruited.

Scouting will grow and develop when it attracts more volunteers to share their time and talents with us.

So thank you for volunteering to support Scouting. Please proudly and proactively tell your friends and family how much Scouting means to you and set yourself a target to recruit at least one friend or colleague to Scouting as your gift for the centenary.

We will all see the benefits in years to come.

On behalf of 28 million Scouts world-wide, thank you for your support.

Yours in Scouting,

Mr. Herman C.S. Hui

Chairman of the World Scout Committee
